SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the School Board of Unity:

I am offering for your consideration my first annual school report.

As I entered upon my work in the Unity schools I found much to commend. All the teachers are normal graduates, some with, and some without, teaching experience beyond that gained as part of their training. All of them apparently possessed a good personality, the habit of industry and those qualities of kindness, justice and firmness so essential to good discipline and to the pupils' interest in their studies. I noted that the salary schedule is sufficient to give a reasonably good prospect of securing other successful teachers whenever the need of them may arise.

I was pleased to find a good supply of school texts, supplementary books and other material, all modern, in good physical condition and carefully stored in closets. I found in Superintendent Morrill a predecessor most helpful in his efforts to supply me with those items of information so necessary to a quick pick up at the beginning of my work in Unity.

I noted that the lighting arrangements are modern, allowing the light to enter from the left and the rear; that efficient jacketed stoves furnish sufficient circulation of heated air to provide in all parts of the room a temperature of approximately 68 to 70 degrees; that single desks are provided for all the pupils.

These statements of very good schoolroom conditions apply to the buildings at East Unity and Unity Centre. At the County school building the conditions are not so satisfactory. The room is crowded. The total enrollment to the first of February is forty-four, although the largest membership at any time has been but thirty. The light enters indeed from the left and the rear, but the amount of light admitted is a little more than one-half of the minimum standard requirements. The stove is located in the middle of the room where it interferes with a satisfactory seating arrangement. A better location is in the northwest corner of the room. While the stove is jacketed and the jacket serves the good purpose of protecting the pupils who sit near the stove from the direct rays of intense heat it is not of the type necessary to produce a sufficiently good circulation of the heated air to provide an even temperature all over the room.

I recommend that larger windows replace those now in use of sufficient size to approximately double the present lighting surface; that this enlargement be in height that the top of the window may be near the ceiling above in order to reflect a larger portion of the light from overhead. The height of the room is sufficient for the purpose. I further recommend that a jacketed furnace similar to those in the Centre schools be installed with a cold air inlet from the outside; that the double desks be replaced by single desks that the entire room may be equipped with single desks instead of, as now, with some of both kinds. I find that thirty single desks can be placed in the room without undue crowding. I understand that a sufficient number of this type of desks may be obtained from one of the school buildings not now in use. As to the cost the new stove is priced around $100. Transportation charges and installation would probably be $25, possibly less. I have requested a reputable carpenter to estimate the cost of installing the new lighting system, including new sashes, window frames, transportation and labor. I find the probable cost not to exceed $200. I judge therefore the total cost of the changes recommended to be approximately $325.

Respectfully submitted,

ANDREW P. AVERILL
